

USED EMERGENCY VEHICLE SALES

BusinessSafe is based on the idea that certain businesses and industries may be exploited by terrorists who portray themselves as honest customers seeking to purchase, lease or somehow appropriate certain materials, licenses and/or services to covertly further a terrorist plot.

The following are general indicators of potential terrorist planning or activities. Alone, each indicator can result from legitimate recreational or commercial activities or criminal activity not related to terrorism; however, multiple indicators combined with other information may possibly suggest a terrorist threat.

- Physical surveillance, which may include note taking or the use of binoculars, cameras or maps near key facilities.
- Attempts to gain sensitive information regarding key facilities or personnel through personal contact or by telephone, mail or e-mail.
- Attempts to penetrate or test physical security and response procedures at key facilities.
- Attempts to improperly acquire explosives, weapons, ammunition, dangerous chemicals, flight manuals or other materials which could be used in a terrorist attack.
- Suspicious or improper attempts to acquire official vehicles, uniforms, badges, access cards or identification for key facilities.
- Presence of individuals who do not appear to belong in the workplace, business establishment or near a key facility.
- Behavior which appears to denote planning for terrorist activity, such as mapping out routes, playing out scenarios, monitoring key facilities and timing traffic flow or signals.
- Stockpiling suspicious materials or abandoning potential containers for explosives (e.g., vehicles or suitcases).

The following examples of activity relating to Used Emergency Vehicle Sales, though not fully inclusive, may be of possible concern to law enforcement:

- Specific requests by individuals as to how one might purchase decommissioned or used emergency vehicles, such as those of police and fire departments as well as ambulances, with the official equipment "package" still intact or partially intact.
- A cash purchase of a used emergency vehicle such as a police car by someone who does not represent a company or business that typically purchases these types of used vehicles for their fleet (i.e., a livery or taxi company).
- Loss or theft of equipment from decommissioned or used emergency vehicles parked in your sales lot.

- Unusual requests as to the purchase of decommissioned or used emergency vehicles outside of the types or models of vehicles normally requested by customers, i.e., other government agency vehicles such as U.S. Postal trucks or Department of Corrections prisoner transport trucks or vans or buses, etc.

Your impressions and assessment based upon your professional business experience are extremely valuable and should help guide you in determining if a customer request, a fact pattern, or set of circumstances is unusual.

Please remember that the conduct of an individual will not necessarily be criminal in nature. Suspicious incidents should be reported immediately to your local law enforcement agency, Crime Stoppers, or your regional FDLE office.
