

STATE OFFICES

BusinessSafe is based on the idea that certain businesses and industries may be exploited by terrorists who portray themselves as honest customers seeking to purchase, lease or somehow appropriate certain materials, licenses and/or services to covertly further a terrorist plot.

The following are general indicators of potential terrorist planning or activities. Alone, each indicator can result from legitimate recreational or commercial activities or criminal activity not related to terrorism; however, multiple indicators combined with other information may possibly suggest a terrorist threat.

- Physical surveillance, which may include note taking or the use of binoculars, cameras or maps near key facilities.
- Attempts to gain sensitive information regarding key facilities or personnel through personal contact or by telephone, mail or e-mail.
- Attempts to penetrate or test physical security and response procedures at key facilities.
- Attempts to improperly acquire explosives, weapons, ammunition, dangerous chemicals, flight manuals or other materials which could be used in a terrorist attack.
- Suspicious or improper attempts to acquire official vehicles, uniforms, badges, access cards or identification for key facilities.
- Presence of individuals who do not appear to belong in the workplace, business establishment or near a key facility.
- Behavior which appears to denote planning for terrorist activity, such as mapping out routes, playing out scenarios, monitoring key facilities and timing traffic flow or signals.
- Stockpiling suspicious materials or abandoning potential containers for explosives (e.g., vehicles or suitcases).

The following examples of activity relating to State Offices, though not fully inclusive, may be of possible concern to law enforcement:

- The appearance of a suspicious vehicle (including bicycles with a storage basket) parked near your building or surrounding buildings.
- Actions by an individual that suggest the pre-event videotaping of a location and surrounding area for no apparent reason (i.e., no aesthetic value).
- The sudden appearance of a new street vendor in an area adjacent to your state office.
- Unclaimed or suspicious packages or objects found near your building or surrounding buildings.
- The very recent placement of a garbage can, postal mailbox, newspaper kiosk or other stationary object in your building or on the perimeter of your building.

- Recent attempts by unknown individuals to gain access to your building's roof.
- Reports by employees of being questioned by suspicious individuals as to their routine or activities.
- Individuals bringing or attempting to bring unusual packages into the premises.
- Visitors found in your building claim to be lost or appear disoriented.
- Maintenance work that is not announced or scheduled takes place.
- Deliveries arrive that are not anticipated or requested.
- Suspicious inquiries by unknown individuals regarding:
  - Security measures in place or security routines/patrols surrounding your building.
  - The schedules, arrival and departure times of public officials, dignitaries, or other VIPs within your building.

Your impressions and assessment based upon your professional business experience are extremely valuable and should help guide you in determining if a customer request, a fact pattern, or set of circumstances is unusual.

Please remember that the conduct of an individual will not necessarily be criminal in nature. Suspicious incidents should be reported immediately to your local law enforcement agency, Crime Stoppers, or your regional FDLE office.
